

BOUNDARY DISPUTE FINALLY SETTLED

The bounds of the old St. Thomas Church have been settled.

A long standing question that has prevented the town from purchasing the old property from the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Boston was settled by mutual agreement of Town Counsel Philip Buzzell and the abutting land owner, Attorney Timothy Kane.

As agreed last Thursday, the disputed portion of land, between the church and the home of Atty Kane will be roughly divided into nearly equal halves.

The new bound will start at a point which is approximately 16 feet towards the Kane residence from the 'driveway' that goes to the back of the old church.

It is not to be described as a straight line, from Middlesex Ave to the back of the disputed portion, but is nearly so.

The agreement puts the town into a position where it can now buy the land, as agreed, and possibly start the construction of the long needed public library, now being planned for the site.

ROBERT E HAMILTON
CHAIRMAN OF ENGLISH
DEPT. IN HIGH SCHOOL

Robert E. Hamilton of North Wilmington has been appointed Chairman of the English Department of Wilmington High School.

A lifelong resident of Wilmington, he was educated in the Wilmington public schools, and graduated from Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine, in 1958. He is currently working on his Master's degree at Tufts University.

Mr. Hamilton succeeds Miss Laura N. Marland, who retired in June after 46 years of teaching in the Wilmington Public Schools.

BEACHES OFFER REST, FUN AND DISEASE

'Broken glass, seashells, and driftwood with jutting nails - all can take the fun out of summer pleasures at the beach,' said Dr. Gerald Fagan, Public Health Physician, 'and replace frolic with tetanus, one of the most dangerous diseases known to mankind.'

Tetanus, commonly known as 'lockjaw' may be introduced into a victim's body through a mere scratch or puncture. Once in the body the germs liberate a deadly poison attacking the nerve centers causing convulsions, muscle spasms, even paralysis and death.

'Unfortunately, not all beaches afford the first aid necessary to clean a serious wound, and not everyone pays enough attention to a minor cut. Tetanus can be avoided by means of adequate immunization,' explained Dr. Fagan.

Protection against this disease requires a basic series of three toxoid inoculations, each one month apart, a booster dose within a year, and reinforcing doses every five to ten years.

Without this protection, an injured person would need a tetanus anti-toxin inoculation. A number of people have a severe and even fatal allergic reaction to the anti-toxin if they are allergic to horse serum.

'Tetanus is almost completely preventable by means of immunization,' said Dr. Fagan, and members of the community should see their family doctor or attend one of the Board of Health's immunization clinics to receive their inoculations.

A second precaution against tetanus at the beach is to avoid walking in bare feet when unnecessary. Instead, wear sandals or shoes medicines for 30 days, which receives an annual check-out from the government.

The only thing required by the town was suitable storage. Peters told Forbes he would have his answer Wednesday morning.

Wednesday morning the Supt. of Schools, in answer to a query by Peters, said that there would be available space beneath the High School, in the basement, and Peters so notified Forbes.

He was told by Forbes that the Fast action by Peters May acquire CD hospital

A completely equipped, austere but functional hospital, provided by Civil Defense may come rolling into Wilmington in a few weeks.

It will contain an estimated 30 day supply of essential medical supplies, plus assorted equipment required for the provision of emergency medical care, which would be suitable for use if there were an attack on this country. The hospital would be set up in a church or other community center.

PETERS AND FORBES: In conference Tuesday afternoon.

Robert Peters, Temporary Town Manager, first heard of the offer from Civil Defense on Tuesday morning, two days before it was due to expire. It is not known how long the offer had been made to Wilmington, but literature which describes the hospital is dated back to 1962.

Peters acted quickly. He called the Civil Defense Sector 10 Chief, at the Tewksbury Hospital, the same morning.

That afternoon Douglas Forbes, the Sector Chief, was in the Town Hall, and Peters learned that there was plenty to the offer - 200 beds, and 10 departments, including such things as multiple operating suites, X Ray, clinical laboratory, pharmacy, etc etc.

There is a supply of drugs and town would know in about two weeks whether or not a hospital would be made available.

'I like to get things for the town, if they don't cost money', was the comment the Town Manager made when he heard the news.

JOHN GILLIS COMING HOME

John J. Gillis, a CPO in the US Navy, who has been stationed in Hawaii for many years, is on his way home to Wilmington, with his family.

Gillis will be making his home at 9 Liberty Street, until he receives orders for reporting to his future ship or station.

IT WASN'T AN EDUCATOR COOKIE: Barney McMahon, High School Principal, was inducted as President of the Rotary Club yesterday, and a surprise feature was a cake, with a robed educator as a decoration. Barney is receiving the cake from outgoing president Bob Sumberg, of Avco.

The cake, a complete surprise, was baked by Scotty Laganas of Scotties Donut Shop.

Selectmen & Commerce biggies They're going to dine at Rocco's

There is going to be a big dinner date next Tuesday evening.

The Board of Selectmen, and Mrs. Olive Sheldon, retired clerk of the Board, and President Bob Evans together with Executive Secretary Stanley Webber, of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce are to be the guests of Rocco De Pasquale, for a Dinner on the House.

Benny Restuccia, president of Wilmington Ford, may join in the dinner too. He hasn't decided yet, but he has offered to loan his old Model T Ford to Rocco, for the occasion.

Rocco Senior and Rocco Junior are celebrating twenty five years in business, and they are going to do it in proper style.

Selectman Charles H. Black, the only Selectman on the board today who was on the board in 1941, when the restaurant first opened for business, is to be a special guest of Rocco Senior, as will Mrs. Sheldon, who was the clerk of the board at that time.

The Rocco's, father and son, are proud of their twenty five years in Wilmington. They are going to do things in proper Italian style, to celebrate the fact. It's going to be for everybody, with Pizza prices of twenty five years ago, and steak prices -- well --

Not only Selectmen and Chamber of Commerce biggies will be going to Rocco's, when they hear of the prices that are offered.

In fact the two Rocco's are looking forward to a real Wilmington Family night - for three nights!

Laura N Marland's Party

PART OF THE LONG LINE: Of well wishers for Laura C Marland. Standing near her is Robert Hamilton, recently promoted to be the head of the English Department, of which Miss Marland was so long in charge. To the right is Miss Edna Marland, a sister.

THE LAST TO SAY GOOD BY: The Rev. David Smith wishes his former teacher good luck, as Maurice Gordon, of the Class of 1923 talks with John Ella.

Mr Gordon, who now makes his home in Brookline, is the owner of considerable real estate in Boston, and is reputed to be the wealthiest graduate of Wilmington High School.

The good-by party for Laura N Marland was a tremendous success. There was, of course, a very good reason, and that reason was named Bernard McMahon.

Mr McMahon, High School Principal, and originator of the idea, was everywhere - and yet was very inconspicuous.

There were hundreds of grads and friends who came to honor the lady who gave 46 years of her life to the problem of inculcating the proper use of the English language into the children of Wilmington.

Only one class was represented 100% - the Class of 1920 - Alice Bischoff, Emilie Loud, and Stanley Webber. They were the first to graduate from Wilmington High School after Laura Marland had started her teaching career, and they were present in full force to wish her God Speed, at the end of that career.

The gymnasium had very thoughtfully been divided into sections, so that old grads could gravitate to the section that bore a sign having the year of their class on it. Many were the classmates that were able to meet again, as a result.

There was no such thing as an accurate count of the guests. Many signed the Register, which was in charge of Miss Florence Balkus, but then, many didn't. One of the latter was Dr. James Devine, of Woburn, Class of 1922.

The graduate who probably had travelled the greatest distance to be present was Eileen (Porter) Montgomery, now living in the state of Colorado, but there were many others who had travelled a great distance. Florida was the home of nearly a dozen who signed the register.

PBC Meeting

While waiting for PBC member McClure to make a quorum, the Permanent Building Committee, Monday night, had a lively discussion on Pyramid Clubs, and Charles Ponzl; Michelson's golf, Currier's legislative meeting to be held on Long Island - not Plum Island, Pat Gately's broken finger typing, leading to some confusion in the typed minutes of last meeting, and architect Guarino's visit to Mt. Washington.

The meeting got underway with Michelson reading a letter from the Quincy Ornamental Iron Works, claiming that the town owes them $2,546.10 for work done at the North Intermediate School. A letter is to be sent to them advising that the general contractor not the town, is responsible for payment of the bill.

A letter was read from the Town Manager saying that the Town Engineer is not able to do perimeter surveying requested by the PBC as he has a full itinerary for the next 8 weeks.

A letter from Atty Bacchi Goluppo claims his client Briden Grimes was not paid some $3,109.23 owed by general contractor, and requests that the town pay the bill.

Ralph Currier observed that the work was not finished.

Architect Guarino said that the contractor must have paid some of the bill, - that there was a discrepancy in the amount to be paid, and that no two invoices were the same.

Michelson dictated a letter to Atty Goluppo, copy to Grimes, and copy to Philip Buzzell, Town Counsel, stating that according to Section 39F Chapter 30, General Laws not later than the 65 days after each sub contractor fully completes his work in accordance with plans and specifications will the money be paid to your client as proper, upon invoice, upon the full completion of his work as outlined in plans submitted by the general contractor.

It was moved and seconded to tighten up sub contractor - general contractor forms and adaption of hardware allowance sheets broken down to indicate individual allowances.

Michelson made a report on the meeting of last Thursday, re the boundaries of Old St. Thomas. Present at the meeting were the Town Counsel, Philip Buzzell, the attorney for the Archdiocese, Gartland, Emmons and Flemming, a civil engineering firm, a Mr. Klimes, Atty Tim Kane (one of the parties to the dispute), Mr. Jaeschke, Mr. Guarino and Mr. Michelson.

New boundary points were indicated and agreed upon for the new library. There is a further understanding that the cost of the Land Court surveys will be paid for jointly by Kane and the Archdiocese.

Flemming and Emmons were asked to submit estimates for a survey of the old St. Thomas Church property, but no estimate had been received by the PBC as of Monday night. It was suggested that other engineers be employed for the job.

There was a big discussion about having the town pave the rest of Carter Lane. The town had voted to accept Carter Lane as a street, but did not pave the last part, which now is most important, as an entrance to the driveway for the new school. Currier stated that the town should appropriate money for paving the rest of the road, and it should not have to come out of school funds.

Michelson brought up complaints by the Fire Department. It turned out that the department could not find the contractor's fire watcher last Saturday, at the time when brush was being burned at the school site. According to the rules agreed upon with the General Contractor, White, a fire watcher was to be present at all times when burning.

Michelson said that some people did not think there was a fire watcher present Saturday, and that a blaze did get out of control. He said further that the White Company was responsible, and is to be billed for paid fire watchers from the Fire Department.

An executive session was called at 9:20 pm.

seek an opinion from the Town Counsel as to the proper wording of such a notice before holding a hearing.

In a spirited discussion, Elia informed the board that the newspaper notice for the hearing was worded 'to revoke the license' and said that 'it is my feeling that such action and such a hearing would be illegal'.

In answer to a question by Selectman Rene LaRivee as to why he had not utilized his license, Elia said that he preferred not to discuss the subject until proper notice was given for a hearing, and that he felt that his 'rights were violated by not getting proper notice'.

Selectman Paul Niles agreed that Elia had 'no forewarning as to the reason why he was here'. Selectman Lloyd Bender moved that discussion be tabled until an opinion from the Town Counsel had been received, and Niles moved to request the Town Counsel's opinion as to the proper notice of a hearing.

In further discussion, Elia continued that he knew of 'nine licenses in town that haven't been picked up' and said that there were reasons why he hadn't renewed his license yearly. Bender assured him that the 'proper legal procedure would be followed'.

Gas Station Hearing

Attorney Simon Cutter, representing Wilmington Plaza and Phillips 66 Oil Company, presented the case for a gas station next to Dave Elman's. In discussing the application, Cutter said that he 'realized there has been a lot of talk about gas stations and a lot of problems' but felt that areas of future development should be considered. He stated that the De Moulas shopping center has been good for the town because it 'has given the people in Wilmington a place to shop and a place to work'.

Cutter emphasized that one of the key things in a shopping center is a gas station and said that 'the modern theory is that for the complete success of such a complex, they have to have a gas station'. He felt that if a gas station license had been requested when the shopping center was being planned, a permit probably would have been granted, and that it isn't fair to turn the application down because of fear of increased competition for existing stations.

In closing he added that he felt 'the DeMoulas center has been successful for one big reason - it has been kept clean', and he assured the Board that 'they would maintain a clean gas station'.

Irate Citizen

Felice Vitale of Woburn Street, was present for a nine o'clock appointment with the Board to speak on the 'rights of citizens to speak up at open meetings'. He felt that 'citizens do have a right to speak up', that 'elected officials should be responsible to the people who have elected them', and that 'some of the things that have gone on at Selectmen's meetings have been disgusting, disgraceful and a shame'.

Selectman LaRivee assured Vitale that 'any spectator has a right to come in and listen' and that 'any citizen, with the approval of the Board, may ask questions, but that a meeting of a town board is not a Town Meeting or open hearing'.

Mrs. Drew added that no one has the right to interrupt the proceedings with outbursts of abuse. LaRivee moved that the board 'request a written opinion from the Town Counsel as to how meetings should be conducted regarding the question of people speaking up'. Vitale appeared to be satisfied with this disposition of the subject and said that if he 'doesn't like the opinion', he can then 'do something about it'.

A. P. Rounds

Bulder A. P. Rounds was granted permission to remove gravel from land on Drazer Drive in Hathaway Acres in order to prepare house lots for building.

A restriction limiting the removal of gravel in the area to 25,000 cubic yards was included in the permit and Rounds agreed to maintain the grade of the lots at two feet above street level, with the street level to be determined by Planning Board approval of the proposed plan.

Junk Problem

John Burke of Gowing Road appeared before the Board to request that something be done about a problem of old cars and lumber stored near his house. He said that the residents of the area have been trying to do something about the problem for years with no success, and felt that if nothing can be done under the present town laws, he 'would like to see by-laws with teeth in them to protect the whole town'. The Board referred the matter to Acting TM Bob Peters and requested a full report.

T M's Report

Peters gave the Selectmen a lengthy report on the status of various problems in the town. He told the board that Burlington Avenue has been staked out to show future land takings and that arrangements have been made to hold the hearing regarding the widening of Burlington Avenue at the Boutwell Street School, 8 pm, Thursday, July 1st. DPW Engineer, Howard Snelling, will be present to answer questions.

Peters reported that the Police Department has been asked to enforce parking regulations on Grove Avenue, and the Highway Department will replace all the 'No Parking' signs which have been mutilated in the area.

A detailed report from Building Inspector Minot Anderson was read by Peters outlining the actions that have been taken regarding numerous hazardous structures in the town. In some cases letters have been sent to the owners of the property requesting that the situation be corrected; and in other cases action was deferred because of a lack of information. Anderson's main problem is the lack of a sufficient staff to enforce the Zoning By-Law.

Baby Beach

As requested by the Selectmen at last week's meeting of the Board, Peters reported on the Zoning in the area of 'Baby Beach' at Silver Lake, and discussed a plan which showed the bounds of the Neighborhood Business District. A lengthy discussion followed with three abutters speaking in favor of Angelo Sorrentino's operation at the beach.

Mrs. Alma Williams of Grove Avenue said that Sorrentino's area is well supervised and that without such supervision 'we would have trouble'.

Selectman LaRivee stated that 'the question is not about the way the operation is run, but whether or not Sorrentino is operating in a proper zone'. He related that Sorrentino 'has been told many times to go before the Board of Appeals to settle the question'.

Bender read a previous opinion from the Town Counsel regarding the legality of the operation, which stated that permission to rent boats which had been given to a previous owner was considered a personal privilege and that it was not transferable to a new owner. There was some feeling among those present that the operation may come under a non-conforming usage.

Leland Campbell, a member of the Recreation Commission, as a citizen of the town, questioned how a business operation could be allowed in a residential area and asked if 'people can just ignore the law'. Mrs. Drew said that the only license which was ever issued was for the renting of boats, and Niles requested a further report from the Building Inspector on the zoning in the area.

LaRivee repeated that 'Sorrentino was advised of the procedure to take, and he has not seen fit to do so for reasons beyond my understanding. Tom McQuaid, the previous owner of the property, stated that he 'will see that Sorrentino goes to the Board of Appeals'.

Resuscitator at Lake

Bender commented that because of a suggestion made by Police Officer Brennan, the Town Manager had placed one of the three town resuscitators at the new bath house at Silver Lake for emergencies. He felt that both Peters and Officer Brennan were to be commended for their action in furthering the safety and welfare of the townspeople.

Executive Session

At the close of the open meeting, the board went into executive session to discuss applications which have been received for the position of Town Manager.

APPRECIATION DAYS AT

TO SHOW OUR THANKS

IT'S OUR 25TH

TO OUR MANY FINE CUSTOMERS WE'VE

Dear Friends,

It was twenty five years ago this week that Dad (Rocco DePasquale Sr.) first opened his restaurant in Wilmington. It was perhaps a bold undertaking to open an Italian restaurant in Wilmington, but Dad used only the best Italian food available, imported from Italy, and there are many today who remember his cooking with fond memories.

We are proud of Rocco Sr. He was, we believe, the first to make a pizza in Boston, back in 1913, and perhaps the first to make a pizza in New England. The high quality which he had when he started has always been carried on.

For the past two years the restaurant has been operated by Rocco Jr, but with Rocco Sr. almost always present, with advice and help.

We are proud of our restaurant, and its family atmosphere. In honor of the 25 years of business in this town, we are conducting appreciation holidays. Won't you join us?

Planning Board

The Board of Selectmen were told Tuesday evening, that the cost of the initial plan for the development of the 40 acre tract in South Wilmington, proposed for urban renewal by the Chamber of Commerce, would be between $15,000 and $20,000. The state, they were told, would pay 75% and the town 25%, with the town's cost coming from land already owned by the town.

The joint meeting of the Board of Selectmen and the Planning Board heard Allick Epstein, Ex. Secretary Stanley Webber and Jim Raffi, of the Chamber of Com-repeat the statements which had been made two weeks earlier to the Planning Board.

Stanley Webber told the meeting that when an administrator would be required the salary would be equal to that of the top official of the town.

Webber said that the town could develop the land itself and that the State would pay 50% of the actual land development, a position which Selectman Bender commented on, saying it would put the town in a position of control.

Selectman Paul Niles moved to ask the opinion of the Town Counsel relative to the up-to-date position of the town and urban renewal. There were no seconds.

Driveway Regulations

In the Planning Board meeting Planner Sam Snow, now a regular employee of the board, explained to the Selectmen and Planning Board members the purpose and benefits of having a driveway regulation.

The law, he told his listeners, would be preventative in action. At the present time the Planning Board cannot control the entrance and exit of driveways, under the existing zoning code, and many problems can arise.

Many cities and towns have such driveway regulations he said, as a part of their parkway regulations. Lt. John Imbimbo, of the Police Department, present to represent the Police Department, told the group that at the time of the fire at the Barrows home the police had difficulty in controlling traffic that cut across Lucci's shopping center, since the parking area did not have a definite ingress and exit area.

Snow said that the by-law, if accepted, would be supplementary to the existing by-laws, and that a fine of $100 a day was proposed for those who did not conform.

The Selectmen suggested that the Planning Board go ahead, and that Mr. Snow draft a letter and send along with the regulations to Town Counsel Philip Buzzell, for approval before preparing to submit to the state.

Lucci said that the curbing as shown on the plan was unworkable and would reduce the free access to the stores, and his tenants would suffer. He told the board that there had never been an accident caused by anyone entering or leaving his parking area.

Lucci had submitted a revised plan, but it could not be found.

Chairman Austin Rounds questioned whether the board could accept a revised plan, and in the discussion that followed Lucci was told that he was before the wrong board.

His problem, he was told, lay with the Building Inspector and the Town Engineer.

Snow said that there should have been no 'occupancy permit' until the complete requirements had been met, and Lucci replied that he had never had an occupancy permit.

Danny Gillis suggested that Mr. Lucci make an appointment with the Building Inspector, and request consideration of revised plans.

Snow pointed out that the Town Counsel had ruled that no new permits can be issued for any place until all specifications shown on old plans had been complied with.

Lucci's Curbing

John Lucci, owner of Lucci's shopping center, at the corner of Woburn and Lowell Streets, told the Planning Board, later that evening that the Building Inspector, Minot Anderson, would not give him a building permit to erect additional stores, until he had installed the curbing shown on the original approved plan for the development of the shopping center.

Longest game

Tradesmen go 19½ innings

The Wilmington Tradesmen, Sunday, won the longest game in the history of the Carling League. The team outlasted Wakefield in a 19 inning game, to win by a score of 7 to 4.

The fourth pitcher to go in the game, as a relief pitcher, held down the mound for a total of 2 2/3rds innings!

It was a real team effort as 16 members of the Wilmington club saw action. Richie Robinson of North Andover started, and had a no-hitter going for five innings. However, Wakefield scored twice in the 6th, and when the Tradesmen went into the 9th trailing 2-0 it looked as though the two runs would be enough.

A double by Norm Heinze, a walk to Lynn Billings, and a two-run single by Connie Barry tied the score and forced the game into extra innings.

The score remained tied until the 16th frame, when Jimmy Melzar hit a two run homer for Wilmington. Wakefield however, came back with two runs in their half and the game was deadlocked again. Tired of catching after 18 innings Norm Heinze once again led off the 19th with a base hit. Tom Payne was hit by a pitch, and Peter Emery walked to load the bases with one out.

Barry and McGillicuddy then singled to score three runs, which made the difference. Wennik then set Wakefield down 1-2-3, to preserve the victory.

The game took 5 hours and 55 minutes to complete. Wakefield will be at Wilmington Friday night looking for vengeance, and Manager Jim Tighe has nominated Rich Robinson once again to face them.

HEROES OF THE MARATHON GAME: L to R, Richie Robinson, 17 yr old High School Phenom from N. Andover; Connie Barrie, who drove in the winning run in the 19th inning; Normie Heinze, catcher, who caught all 19 innings and got four hits; Jimmy Melzar, who collected five hits including a two run homer in the 16th inning; and Mike Farrell, who made a great throw from Center Field to prevent a Wakefield win in the 17th inning. Not included in the picture is Paul Wennik, who pitched 9 2/3rds innings of relief ball and picked up the win. (Bob Bousefield Photo)

The end of the Eames farm?

STRAWBERRY PICKERS: Nearly 100 Wilmington people are in the field, Tuesday morning, when this picture was taken, picking strawberries from the Shawsheen Farm.

The never ending quest for suitable water supplies, on the part of the Board of Water Commissioners ran afoul, last Thursday, with the desire of Alden Eames, of Shawsheen Avenue to keep one of the oldest, and most certainly the largest farm in Wilmington in operation.

Eames had requested a hearing before the Board, invoking a seldom used law, designed to protect farms from being taken by towns under 'Eminent Domain' proceedings.

Eames had Attorney Simon Cutter to represent him, before the Water Commissioners. Also present was Mr and Mrs Pappageorge of Wareham, owners of the Lowell Cranberry Bog, also the last of its kind in Wilmington. The Cranberry Bog is adjacent to the Eames farm, and both depend on the waters of Lubbers Brook, at Shawsheen Avenue.

The Commissioners propose to take by eminent domain a large tract of land, near Lubbers Brook. They have had a well site developed by their engineers, to add to the water supplies of Wilmington.

Cutter and Eames attempted to get the Commissioners to seek for another site, nearby, but further downstream, so as to allow the Eames farm to still get its necessary water from Lubbers Brook, but the Commissioners had doubts as to whether or not they will be able to find another site which will be suitable.

Cutter promised the Commissioners that he would return and be present at their next meeting.

The Farm

18 acres in area, the Eames farm dates back to about 1740, when it was the home of the Walker family. One of Wilmington's Captains of Minutemen lived in the old farmhouse (which burned down in 1953) during the Revolution, and a number of notable persons in the Walker family were born there. The Walker School received its name from that family.

The farm is owned by Mrs Lena Eames, who retired a few years ago after serving the Wilmington public schools as a teacher for many years.

Alden Eames has been cultivating 13 acres of the land for the past 20 years, since he returned from the war, devoting his principal efforts to the growing of corn and strawberries.

He has a lot of equipment, amounting to thousands of dollars in value, for irrigating the farm, from a water supply he has developed, near the brook.

Eames farm strawberries, in recent years, have become well known through the area. The farm has annually donated strawberries to the churches of Wilmington, for their Strawberry Festivals, each June.

If the Water Commissioners are unable to find another site for a well, and carry through their plans for taking land Mr. Eames is of the belief that he will have to abandon the cultivation of his farm.

Births

BALLOU, a son, born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ballou, 704 Woburn Street, on June 22, at Lowell General Hospital. There are now 7 boys and 4 girls in the family.

WHITTREDGE, Ernest Mereness, 2nd son, born June 11, to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Whittredge, Ballston Spa, New York. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harland Whittredge, formerly of Hillside Way, Wilmington, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Mereness of Cobleskill, New York.

IN THE CELLAR: With the old stonewalls of the Town Hall forming a background, Water Commissioner Arnold Blake listens to Eames and Simon Cutter. Closer to the camera are Mr and Mrs Pappageorge, owners of the Lowell Cranberry Bog.

June 21, 1965

Dear Larz:

I would like to express publicly my appreciation to the Wilmington Fire Department, particularly the Sunday June 20th crew, who answered the call, and in a neat and efficient manner were able to keep damage to my home at a minimum. Many thanks fellows, and I hope it won't be necessary to call you again.

Sincerely
Paul D MacDonald
June 30, 1965

Dear Larz:

A poll, requested by WNAC TV following their 'Tax Teach In' last week showed 2968 mail-in ballots favoring Gov. Volpe's program versus 308 for the Democratic program - clearly 10 to 1 in favor of a Sales Tax, as opposed to a high income Democratic tax.

Now let us see what the legislature, which is controlled by the Democrats, will do?!

Will we get what we want - or will it be again like the famous 'Pay Raise Theft'?

Roy Syvertson

Dear Larz,

I have seen several small boys carrying snapping turtles in their bicycle baskets - taking them away from their natural element.

Leaving the turtles alone could save many children from needless injury and perhaps help rid us of our Jack-rabbit sized mosquitoes.

Thank you,

C. Hutchinson
Pinewood Road

(Editor) C. Hutchinson refers to a release from Capt. Robert Murray, agent of the Mass.SPCA, that at this time of the year, turtles come out of the water to lay their eggs in sand. Snapping turtles will often take the initiative and charge - they can snap off a finger with one deadly bite. Turtles are a natural control for mosquitoes, other insect pests and also of water pollution by consuming decay matter.
